WUHAN OFFICIALS ON RAMPAGE?

ULTIMATUM HANDED TO BRITISH FIRM.

AMAZING DEMANDS ON THE ELECTRIC COMPANY.

REFUSAL TO COMPLY.

The British community at Hankow is buzzing with excitement as the result of a startling attempt on the part of the Chinese authorities to interfere with the Hankow Light and Power Company, one of the leading British concerns.

A Government department, calling itself the "Wuhan Public Utility Bureau," has issued an ultimatum demanding copies of all accounts of the Company, the plans of the power station, etc., and the payment of a large sum as registration fee.

The ultimatum expires within seven days, but it is understood that the British company has refused to comply, indicating further that it has no intention of doing so unless, and until, the matter has been discussed and agreed between the British Government and the Nanking Government.

Meanwhile, the authorities have resumed the destruction of the B. and S. godown, coolies arriving on the scene accompanied by armed soldiers.

No Resistance Offered.

Hankow, Sept. 11.
Accompanied by armed soldiers, employees of the Wuhan Municipality appeared on the Bund this afternoon at four o'clock and recommenced the demolition of Messrs. Butterfield and Swire's transit sheds.

No resistance was offered, by the Company, though the action has caused some surprise as it was understood that the matter of the confiscation was being negotiated through official channels and that the work of demolition had been stopped under the orders of the authorities.

It was thought that the previous action was merely a test to see whether the firm would offer resistance.

To Avoid Boycott.

The excuse for the forced seizure of the property is that the ground is required for improvements of the City Bund.

A British Naval Wireless message states that although it is understood that work has been ordered to stop, the demolition of Messrs. Butterfield and Swire's godown on the Hankow waterfront was continued yesterday.

The firm, says the Rear-Admiral, Yangtze, did not require any action to be taken to prevent same as it would in all probability result in a boycott of British shipping.

The Latest Venture.

Hankow, Sept. 11.
Another case of the infringement of British rights has been set afoot in Hankow, consisting of an ultimatum which has been handed by the Wuhan Public Utility Bureau to the Hankow Light and Power Company, which is a British concern of note, its shares being quoted on the London Stock Exchange.

The ultimatum expires within seven days, and it demands to be supplied with copies of all account books of the company, together with plans of the power station and the electrification system.

The Bureau also demands the payment of one fifth of one per cent. of the Company's total capital as a registration fee.

Company's Reply.

The Management of the Company had replied, inter alia:—
"Your demands are noted, but we must inform you that as a British registered Company trading in a Treaty Port, we are entitled under our Treaties to rights and privileges and that no interference with the same can be permitted unless, and until, the matter has been discussed between the British Government and the National Government of China, and a satisfactory agreement reached."—Reuter.

SCHNEIDER TEAMS BANQUETTED.

F. O. WAGHORN AWARDED THE AIR FORCE CROSS.

ITALIAN CHALLENGE.

London, Sept. 11.
The British and Italian Schneider Trophy teams were the guests of the British Government at luncheon to-day.

Lord Thomson, the Secretary of State for Air, presided, and he announced that Flying Officer H. B.
D. Waghorn, who piloted the British Supermarine-Rolls-Royce
S-6 to victory, had been awarded the Air Force Cross.

The Air Minister went on to say that the money factor involved in the arrangements for the contest,
the expense of new machines etc., all of which the taxpayer had to provide, gave the Government furious to think.

General Balbo, the principal Italian representative, and Vice-Minister for Air of the Italian Government, in reply, expressed a hope that Britain and Italy will not be the only entrants in the next contest.

Captain Bernasconi, one of the Italian fliers, said that the Italians, as true sportsmen, would make an attempt to beat Squadron-Leader
A. H. Ordley's record of 355.8
miles an hour as soon as possible.

It is understood that Squadron-Leader Ordley will attack his own record to-morrow.—Reuter.

K.O.S.B. DESERTER SENTENCED.

TO BE DISMISSED FROM ARMY WITH IGNOMINY.

'SIX MONTHS' HARD.

John Naismith, a private of the 2nd Batt. King's Own Scottish Borderers, has been sentenced by District Court Martial to six months' imprisonment with hard labour, and to be dismissed from His Majesty's Service with ignominy.

The sentence has been confirmed by H.E. the General Officer Commanding, and was promulgated this morning.

Naismith was before the Court on Monday last and he pleaded guilty to charges of desertion, stealing the sum of $82 from the N.A.A.F.I., and stealing a watch from a colleague.

It was stated that while being hunted as a deserter, he returned to barracks, stole the keys of the N.A.A.F.I. safe from the manager, and then burgled the premises. He stated that he bought civilian clothes with the proceeds in the hope of getting a job on a ship.

Naismith is a little under 24 years of age, and has been in the Army for four years and 97 days.
He has attempted to desert on one previous occasion, being arrested at Edinburgh in 1925 after some days at liberty.

TRAGIC DEATH ON "MANTUA."

CAPTAIN SUDDENLY SUCCUMBS.

COLLAPSES AFTER INDULGING IN EXERCISE.

BODY BURIED AT SEA.

The voyage of the P. and O.
liner Mantua from London to Hongkong was marked by a sad tragedy on Tuesday evening, when the popular commander of the ship, Captain H. O. Davis, D.S.C. R.D., R.N.R., collapsed on deck after indulging in exercise, and almost immediately passed away. His body was subsequently buried at sea.

Tragic Suddenness.

It appears that Captain Davis had just indulged in strenuous exercise and was chatting with the ship's surgeon, Dr. J. L. Hopkins, when he dropped to the deck. At a glance, the medical man saw that Captain Davis was beyond human aid and he ordered his immediate removal to the commander's cabin, where death occurred almost immediately.

The tragedy cast a deep gloom over the entire ship, Captain Davis being most popular with passengers and crew alike.

Burial at Sea.

Arrangements were made for his burial at sea the following morning, and the sea ceremony was attended by the whole of the ship's company and the passengers.

Automatically on the death of the commander, the Chief Officer, Mr.
J. M. Legg, took over the command and brought the Mantua to Hongkong. Mr. Legg will remain in command until arrangements are made in the London office of the
P. and O. Company to fill the post.

Popular Commander.

The late Captain Davis was 54 years of age, and joined the service of the P. and O. Company in 1896.
Despite his years, he was a fine athlete, and was always prominent in arranging sporting and social functions aboard his ship.

It is doubtful, as one of the Mantua's officers observed this morning, if a more popular officer could have been found in the service, and news of his death will come as a severe shock to many friends in all parts of the world.

Captain Davis was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross for devoted service in the R.N.R., on the East African Coast during the war, and also possessed the Reserve Decoration.

He leaves a wife and one child, for whom the greatest sympathy is felt.

FIGHT OVER DEBT.

A THIRD MAN BECOMES INVOLVED.

When three men were charged at the Police Court this morning with fighting, it was explained that two of them had a dispute over a debt, and carried the fight into the house of the third man, who then became involved in it.

Mr. Hamilton (to the third man):—You are the victim, as it appears you have been assaulted.
I shall discharge you.

In fining the other two men $5
each, or eight days, his Worship said to one, who had explained that he was unable to collect a debt from the other:—"You must not press for payment with a stool."

TRIGO'S ST. LEGER VICTORY.

EN GARDE BEATEN AFTER A FINE EFFORT.

THE RACE DESCRIBED.

London, Sept. 11.
The Doncaster St. Leger, the last of the Classics, was won today in a magnificent race by Mr.
W. Barnett's Trigo, the winner of the Derby.

The runners got away to a good start, Cuttlefish jumping into the lead, followed closely by En Garde, Tom Postreel and Bosworth. In that order, with Brienz, third in the Derby, tumbled off.

At the mile-post, En Garde had passed Cuttlefish which was lying second followed by Tom Postreel, Postreel and Bosworth.

Entering the straight, Cuttlefish dropped back beaten, while Trigo and Pennycomequick gained rapidly on En Garde, which was leading from Bosworth. Trigo also came into the picture at this stage.

Two furlongs from home, both En Garde and Pennycomequick were beaten and Bosworth, Trigo, Horus and Hasteaway drew away making a splendid race home.
Trigo won by a short head from Bosworth. Hasteaway was fourth, En Garde fifth and Pennycomequick sixth. The time was 3 minutes 3 2/5th seconds.

The race was just over one and three-quarter miles, and the result was:

Trigo (Barnett) 1
Bosworth (Haston) 2
Horus (Fry) 3

Also ran: Hasteaway (Childs), En Garde (Richards), Pennycome-
quick (Jelliss), Hotwood (Garner), Totalator (Perryman), Postreel
(Taylor), Mr. Jinks (Bosley H.), Tom
Postreel (Dines), Brienz (R. Jones),
Cuttlefish (P. Bensley), Deceit (Fox).

Won by a short head; three-quarters of a length between second and third.

Setting: 5/1 Trigo; 6/1 Bosworth;
25/1 Horus.—Reuter.

JAPANESE SHOEMAKER AGAIN IN TROUBLE.

S. Tajima, a Japanese shoemaker, was charged before Mr. T. S. Whyte

this morning, with travelling on a China Motor bus without paying his fare, and with being drunk and incapable.

On seeing the defendant his Wor-

The defendant admitted both charges.

His Worship said he was probably too drunk to know that he had no money with which to pay the fare, and added that he would allow the second charge to be dropped. "On the first count the defendant was fined $7 or seven days' hard labour."

DEFALCATIONS BY GOVT. CLERK?

LOSS OF VOLUNTEER CORPS FUNDS.

COMMITTAL QUESTION AGAIN CROPS UP.

SOLICITOR & BENCH.

The case against So Chung-man, a Government clerk, who is charged with misappropriation and larceny of Volunteer Corps funds, was again before Mr. E. W. Hamilton at the Central Police Court this morning.

At a previous hearing, Mr. M. K.
Lo (for the defendant) intimated that he was entering a plea of guilty to all counts, and His Worship, then of opinion that the case was of a serious nature entailing the possibility of committal, adjourned the proceedings on the ground that he desired to hear directly from the Government.

Mr. Lo replied that, to his knowledge, one of the Law Officers of the Crown was aware of the proceedings although he might not have been specifically consulted in the case.

Out of Courtesy.

Mr. H.K. Holmes, the official referred to by Mr. Lo, attended Court at the resumption of the proceedings
this morning and was asked by Mr.
Hamilton if he was appearing in the case.

Mr. Holmes:—No, I am not. I understood my name was mentioned, and I am here out of courtesy to the Court.

Mr. Hamilton (alluding to an argument between him and Mr. Lo at the previous hearing):—Really, I cannot understand how all this misunderstanding has arisen. I pronounced definitely that this case was for committal (I have very definite powers on that). But it then appeared that this had not been anticipated, and it was put to me that I might take it summarily. I objected from the point of view that the only thing that would make me change my mind was a submission from the man's employers (the Government) in what appeared to be a serious case of defalcation.

That was my position. I am afraid
I did not put it forward very successfully. I said that if the real employers put it forward to me, I was prepared to take it summarily.
Are you in charge of the case, Mr.
Murphy?

Committal Asked.

The Assistant Director of Criminal Intelligence:—Yes, your Worship.

Mr. Hamilton:—And what are your instructions?

Mr. Murphy:—My instructions are to ask your Worship to deal with the case for committal.

Mr. Hamilton:—That is my original view. I was perfectly right in dealing with the case what?

Mr. Hamilton:—Deal with the case for committal. I think it is in the interest of the man himself to go down. When are you ready to go on, Mr. Murphy?

Mr. Murphy:—I ask your Worship to give time. I am not ready to go on with it, now.

Mr. Hamilton:—I understand the man is throwing himself on the mercy of the Court, or that was the impression I got.

Misunderstanding Cleared.

Mr. Lo:—Your Worship, I am glad that any misunderstanding has been cleared, absolutely. The only other remark I would like to make, is that your Worship had intimated at first it was a committal case.
After having heard Major Wolfe-Murray (the Adjutant of the Volunteer Corps) your Worship said that that altered the whole aspect of the case.

Mr. Hamilton:—You are only reopening the argument, Mr. Lo. I will hear the case, when?

Mr. Lo:—As early as you like!
Anything you like! But your Worship understands, of course, that if the man is committed—he himself very naturally prefers your Worship would deal with him—as far as I understand your Worship's intimation—or perhaps I had better put it this way, as committal or non-committal is up to you, I don't know whether your Worship would like to have the facts before you.
In this case—

Magistrate's Option.

Mr. Hamilton:—I have definite powers, and fully intend to exercise them in either way. I am prepared to meet you as far as possible. I

$2,000,000 RANSOM DEMANDED!

GERMAN MISSIONARIES STILL HELD BY BANDITS.

MONTH IN CAPTIVITY.

News received in Hongkong to-day regarding the German and Swiss missionaries of the Basel Mission who were captured by bandits some time ago whilst at their hill station near Kayingchow show that no less a sum than two million dollars is being demanded as ransom money.

With a view to ascertaining the present position, Messrs. Bitzer and Co., the Hongkong agents of the Basel Mission, wired to the Mission at Kaying, and they received the following telegram in reply:

"At last news from Captives, who still unhurt. Considerable ransom money demanded."
A further telegram was then despatched asking the amount of the ransom, and the reply was that the sum asked was $2,000,000!

The captive missionaries are Messrs. Kilpper and Fischel (Germans) and Walter (Swiss).
In two days' time they will have been a whole month, and no news received from them for three weeks after they were taken into captivity.

No military action appears to have been taken to secure the release of the captured men, and as yet no decision has been reached by the Mission regarding payment of ransom money.

LEAGUE WIRELESS STATION.

BRITAIN URGES EARLY INSTALLATION.

SWISS OPPOSITION.

Geneva, Sept. 11.

The question of installing a special wireless station for use in times of crisis by the League of Nations was re-opened at to-day's meeting of the Third Committee of the Assembly, by Lord Cecil,
one of the British delegates.

Lord Cecil said he was of opinion that the League should have its own wireless station and he proposed that steps should be taken at the earliest possible moment to provide such a station. "It must,
he added, be capable of communicating with all members of the League in all parts of the world, though he thought that its use in peace-time might be determined by financial considerations.

M. Motta, the principal representative of Switzerland, was of the opinion that a separate station for the League was in the nature of an extravagance. He counter-proposed that the existing Swiss station should be asked to give the League full facilities in times of crisis.

The Committee finally approved
Lord Cecil's motion in principle, and referred it to a joint subcommittee, including the representatives of the Financial Committee.—Reuter.

CANTON-HONAN BRIDGE.

TENDERS TO BE CALLED FOR VERY SOON.

Canton, Sept. 11.

The construction of a steel bridge from Canton to Honan Island across the Pearl River, in order to relieve the populated sections of the city, has for a long time occupied the attention of the Municipal Authorities.

Plans and particulars of the proposed bridge have already been prepared. Recently interviewed, Mr.
Ching Tung-ku, the head of the Public Works Department, is reported to have stated that the project will take three years to complete, and that tenders will soon be called for.

In the meantime engineers and workmen have been despatched to blast the submerged rocks in the river which the bridge will span.
This blasting will at least take about a month, and the actual work on the bridge will start about three months thereafter.—Canton News Agency.

MORE EXTRALITY REPLIES.

FRANCE, NORWAY AND HOLLAND.

CHINA'S REQUEST REJECTED BY ALL THREE.

NEED OF REFORMS.

Nanking, Sept. 5.
The following is the English translation of the reply of the French Government to China's note concerning the abolition of extraterritoriality. Aug. 10, 1929.

Monsieur le Ministre,

I have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of the note dated April 27 in which you express the hope that the French Government would take into immediate and favourable consideration the desire of the Chinese Government to be enabled to exercise its jurisdiction over all nationals residing in China.

Having taken note of this communication which has been the object of its careful attention, the French Government authorizes me to recall to Your Excellency that during the Washington Conference it gave voluntarily its approval to the resolution of December 10, 1921, according to the terms of which an international commission was established to study the questions of extraterritoriality in China.

This Commission, in its report of September 16, 1926, made recommendations, the application of which, in its judgment, permit
the Powers to relinquish extraterritoriality.

Reform of Laws Necessary.

Taking into consideration the facts stated by the said Commission, the French Government considers that, in order to realize the conditions favourable for the renunciation of extraterritorial rights enjoyed by its nationals in virtue of the treaty of 1858, it is indispensable that the Chinese Government proceed to the reform of its laws, its judicial institutions and its method of judicial administration, in conformity with the recommendations of the Commission, recommendations to which the Chinese Delegate has given his

EXTRADITION CASE.

ALLEGED MURDER & ROBBERY IN SHUNTAK DISTRICT.

Another extradition case was heard before Mr. E. W. Hamilton at the Central Police Court yesterday, in connexion with an application by the Kwangtung authorities for the surrender of a fugitive who is charged with the double crime of murder and armed robbery.

For the Crown, Mr. L. R. Andrews said the crime was enacted in a village occupied by the Lam clan in the Shuntak district, on May 28 last.

On that day, Lam Cham, a village elder, was out collecting the ancestral funds, and while returning to his home with the money, accompanied by a clansman, he was shot by two men, alleged to be the fugitive and one other, and killed. The money was stolen by the two assailants who made their escape.

On August 12, information was received, which led to the arrest of the fugitive at Yaumati, and his being charged under a warrant with the murder and robbery.

The Evidence.

Chinese constable C589 then gave evidence to the effect that at 9.30 on the night of August 12, he arrested the fugitive in Reclamation Street on the latter being pointed out by an informer.

Cross-examined by Mr. J. d'Almeida Remedios, on behalf of the fugitive, witness said that the fugitive was particularly pointed out to him from a number of other pedestrians who were quite close to the fugitive.

Chief Detective-Inspector Reynolds gave evidence of having formally arrested the fugitive at the Central Police Station on the authority of a warrant which he produced.

Lam Wan-tin (30), a spinster, at present living at the Fook Lee Boarding House, on the central waterfront, stated that she was one of the Lam clan who lived in the ancestral village of that name in the Shuntak district.

She had been living with her brother Lam Cham before he met his death in the incident in question.

Incident Described.

Describing the incident, she said that this took place at 6 p.m. on May 28, in their native village. Lam Cham had been to the chief ancestral joss-house on business connected with the ancestral funds, and when he came away, he brought with him $200 in twenty-cent pieces.

"As we were returning home, Lam Tong, the fugitive, appeared from the opposite direction with Lam Shum. As both men came near, they drew revolvers, and shot my brother. Prior to this, Lam Tong snatched the money which my brother had wrapped up in a newspaper and was holding it under his arm. He and the other man ran away."

Witness, continuing, said she ran away, but before this, she had time to notice that another inhabitant of the village, to whom she referred as Lam Yin, was also shot dead by the assailants.

Questioned by the Magistrate, witness said she had known the fugitive for 20 years. The money that was stolen was part of the ancestral funds of which her brother had charge. He took the $200 away from the temple to keep it at home.

The transference of the money was common knowledge to the people of the village. There had been no dispute of any kind between her brother and the fugitive, they had been quite friendly, and she could only attribute robbery as the motive.

Cross-examination.

In a series of questions to witness, Mr. Remedios suggested that there had been a split in the Lam Kwong Yuen Tong, the village body having charge of the administration of ancestral funds, and that that quarrel, seven years ago, had led to considerable bloodshed and the loss of lives. He

KOWLOON DOCK MISHAP.

COOLIE KILLED BY FALL OF EXCAVATION MATERIAL.

The circumstances attending the death of an earth coolie who was killed while engaged in excavation work of enlarging the No. 1 dock at the Kowloon Docks recently, were investigated by Mr. T. S. Whyte Smith and a jury at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday afternoon.

The jury was composed of Messrs. M. A. Xavier, Yik Tak-ting, and Lau Tak-ting.

"Dr. J. E. Dovey, described various fractures sustained by the deceased and said that the cause of death was multiple fractures, shock and concussions.

An earth coolie, who had been working together with the deceased, said that his duties were to push trucks of sand to a certain spot from where they were lifted by a crane. One truck load was being raised and the witness, with the deceased, then pushed a second truck load under the one already ascending.

The chain of the crane broke and the load dropped, the deceased being crushed underneath. Witness himself received minor injuries to his arm.

In reply to the Coroner witness said that there was no regulation forbidding the workmen from being under an ascending load. The usual practice was for one truck to be taken to the crane while another was being hauled up.

A Stupid Witness.

Witness said that there was a man to give signals to the engineer on the crane, but he did not give warning signals to the workmen. Later the witness said that nobody was allowed to wait under the ascending load.

The Coroner remarked to the jury that the witness was extraordinarily stupid.

Inspector Stimson produced the chain and shackle and pointed out that the pin was missing. He explained that one end of the shackle was threaded and that it appeared that the proper pin was not in use when the accident occurred as half of the pin would still have been in the shackle. A thorough search was made for the missing pin, but without success.

The signalman who gave directions to the man on the crane said that he also gave warnings to the workmen in the event of danger. On the day in question he had signalled to the deceased to move away from under the ascending load.

Warning Given.

Mr. D. L. Keith, Superintendent Shipwright of the Kowloon Docks, said that he visited the scene of the accident two hours before it had occurred and, seeing several workmen walking under the ascending load, gave the foreman directions to warn the coolies.

In reply to the Coroner, witness said that the Dock Company were not responsible for the chain. He thought the contractor was responsible. Witness said that he did not hear any warning whistle just before the accident.

Referring to the missing shackle-pin witness mentioned that he did not think the original pin was being used. He said that possibly the proper pin had got lost and the workman had found a substitute pin.

The inquiry was adjourned till Tuesday, the 24th.

suggested that the fugitive and the man who was shot were diametrically opposed to each other as leaders of these two opposing factions.

These questions were categorically denied by the witness. He also discounted the suggestion that Lam Tong was shot dead while in a fainting shop.

The case was adjourned until Monday.

Picnic for the Blind.

[To The Editor of Hongkong Telegraph.]

Sir,—In connexion with the appeal for the V.D.M.A. (St. Peter's Group) Annual Picnic for the Blind, which you so kindly published at the other day, I wish to say that I have already received the sum of $65 in donations, and the offer of six cars. Such a generous response is most gratifying, but as there are at least 50 blind girls to be transported to Shek-O we still need some more cars. After the picnic has been held, I will send you a detailed acknowledgment of donations and offers of cars. Trusting you will find space to publish this letter and thanking you for your cooperation in this appeal.

EXCITING MATCHES IN THE C.A.A. TOURNAMENT.

The players in the matches played yesterday afternoon in the Chinese Athletic Association tennis tournament were evenly matched, there being no run-away victories.

Lim Bong-so, the Straits player, has shown himself to be a peculiar type of player. He is a left-hander and does not seem to be particularly strong in any one department of the game, but his two matches so far have proved that he is a steady player, and moreover, he seems to have the knack of making his opponent play his game. Yesterday, he met a player more of his class, this being E. C. Fincher.

It was a ding-dong match from start to finish. Each had the lead at one time or another, but Lim's type of play obviously did not suit Fincher, who did not bring his chops into the court, probably knowing that they would not work on the clay courts. Fincher was at times brilliant, but inclined to be erratic. His opponent was content to play a base-line game.

Fincher fought hard for every game, and had it not been for his many errors towards the end of the second set he might have drawn level. He led 4-3 but allowed Lim to win two love games in succession, to make the score 5-4 in Lim's favour. The Straits player had the service in the next game and conceded only one stroke, winning the set by 6-4.

The match between the Rumlahn cousins provided perhaps the greatest struggle in the tournament to date. The match commenced rather late and it was almost completely dark

WOMAN'S WORLD FOR OUR LADY READERS.

The simple little frock that is to do duty for dinner and dance wear will take on a most encouraging air of originality if you give it a "buttonhole" of lace or organdi.

They are not really buttonholes, of course—these pretty new conceits that are having a vogue in Paris—but they fulfil the same purpose, and fulfil it with distinction!

The sketch illustrates the idea in a bow of crisp lace, the floating ends of which are edged with organdi. The rosette is a little newer, perhaps, with its organdi-edged cascade falling to the waistline; and newest and prettiest of all is the trail of lace flowers arranged from the shoulder to the centre point of a V-shaped neckline.

These lace flowers may be purchased all ready to be sewn on your frock; but clever fingers will be able to fashion them at less expense and with more originality. Coloured bead centres may be added, for instance; or a deft flick of the paint brush will suggest a brightly variegated blossom; or, again, an ingenious application of coloured threads here and there will emphasise the pattern of the lace!

Once you decide that the notion appeals to you, endless possibilities will suggest themselves, and the success of your simple little frock is assured.

ABOUT ACCESSORIES.

Accessories are the small things that count. After the new clothes are all fitted, finished, and approved, there is a way of wearing them with the little accessories that make one day different from another.

These are so important that they should not be neglected. Accessories, for the shape of ornament alone, must be few and far between. The flower on the coat collar, be it of chiffon, of feathers, of satin, or just a real, beautiful flower, plucked fresh from the garden is one of the few useless accessories left in modern dress.

In any dress, let it be individual. Leather flowers and shark-skin camelias, look very well on a tailored suit.

The little crisp twigs of coral branches are smart on some afternoon things.

The rubber flowers find a logical place on raincoats, while evening clothes call for chiffon flowers; and real flowers, if one can afford them, are best of all.

Other accessories, such as the handkerchief, must be taken seriously. There are some delightful linen handkerchiefs with monogram worked in coloured thread in the corner, and there are some large crepe-de-chino ones in brilliant colours, and in two or three tones that are much liked by Parisiennes this year.

As for scarves, they are among the most important of accessories. With evening gowns they float from a shoulder, or are flung nonchalantly round the throat. Indeed, it is almost classic to wear them with evening gowns.

Scarves find their way also on afternoon gowns; and there is a certain whimsical charm about wearing chiffon accessories with a tweed suit—a kerchief knotted impudently about the neck above the tailored collar.

Fruit Drinks.

HELPFUL IN SUMMER-TIME DIET.

Hot days make us think of refreshing drinks for summer afternoons. The tinkle of ice against glass has a cooling effect that we all welcome as the thermometer mounts.

More than this any drink made with fruit has a definite place in the diet. We all realize the importance of eating fruit for its mineral content and vitamins and we should not forget those necessary six glasses of water a day. In a fruit punch we find these essentials combined in a pleasing fashion.

Ginger ale, carbonated water, strong tea infusion or plain water are used to dilute the fruit juice, giving a different flavour and increasing the quantity.

Flavouring the Punch. Ginger ale adds sparkle and pep. Carbonated water gives a tang, while tea distinctly changes the flavour. These all give character to a mild punch where as plain water merely lessens the fruit's taste and increases the quantity.

All syrups from tinned fruits are good to use in combination with other flavours, although care must be used in adding sugar to avoid over-sweetness.

Whenever it's possible it's well to make the punch and let it ripen. The flavours blend with each other as well as the sugar.

A sugar syrup is preferable to plain sugar for sweetening. Of course this syrup acts as a diluent as well as a sweetener and must be considered when water is added.

The melting of the ice added for chilling also dilutes the beverage.

Lemon or lime juice gives life to all fruit punches and should always be added if at all possible.

Prepare for Guests.

If the housewife will keep bottled fruit juices, ginger ale or carbonated water, if liked, as well as sugar syrup in her refrigerator she can always welcome and refresh the unexpected guest.

Boil one cup sugar and one-half cup water for five minutes to make sugar syrup. From one-

Enjoying Oneself.

PARENTS SHOULD TRAIN THE CHILD MIND.

That this is an accomplishment cannot be denied. That this accomplishment must be learnt young also cannot be denied.

Most of us can conjure up some man or woman of our acquaintance who always downs us with a pessimistic "But" in the middle of an enthusiastic recital of one of our days of days.

Parents are often urged to train the child mind to see the beauties of nature. That is all to the good, but I would urge all parents to see that their children are brought up with a thorough understanding of how to enjoy themselves.

I know a man who was brought up to work, eat, sleep, and get rich. He never remembered his father taking any of his children for a walk in the country or to a circus or to a cinema. Nor did he ever taste the joys of reading. The family never went for holidays, and his father expected the door to be locked at ten o'clock. Now that this man is wealthy, he absolutely does not know how to spend his money. He has not learnt the art of enjoyment.

The home life of his family is a nightmare, but, being blessed with a mother of vision, his children will not make the same mistakes that have turned out their father a self-centred autocrat.

Teach your children to find their enjoyment in the simple things of life; but be sure to teach them young.

fourth to one-half cup syrup will be needed to sweeten punch for four persons.

Most fruit drinks must be made "to taste," but the following recipe is a good basic rule and can be varied in many ways.

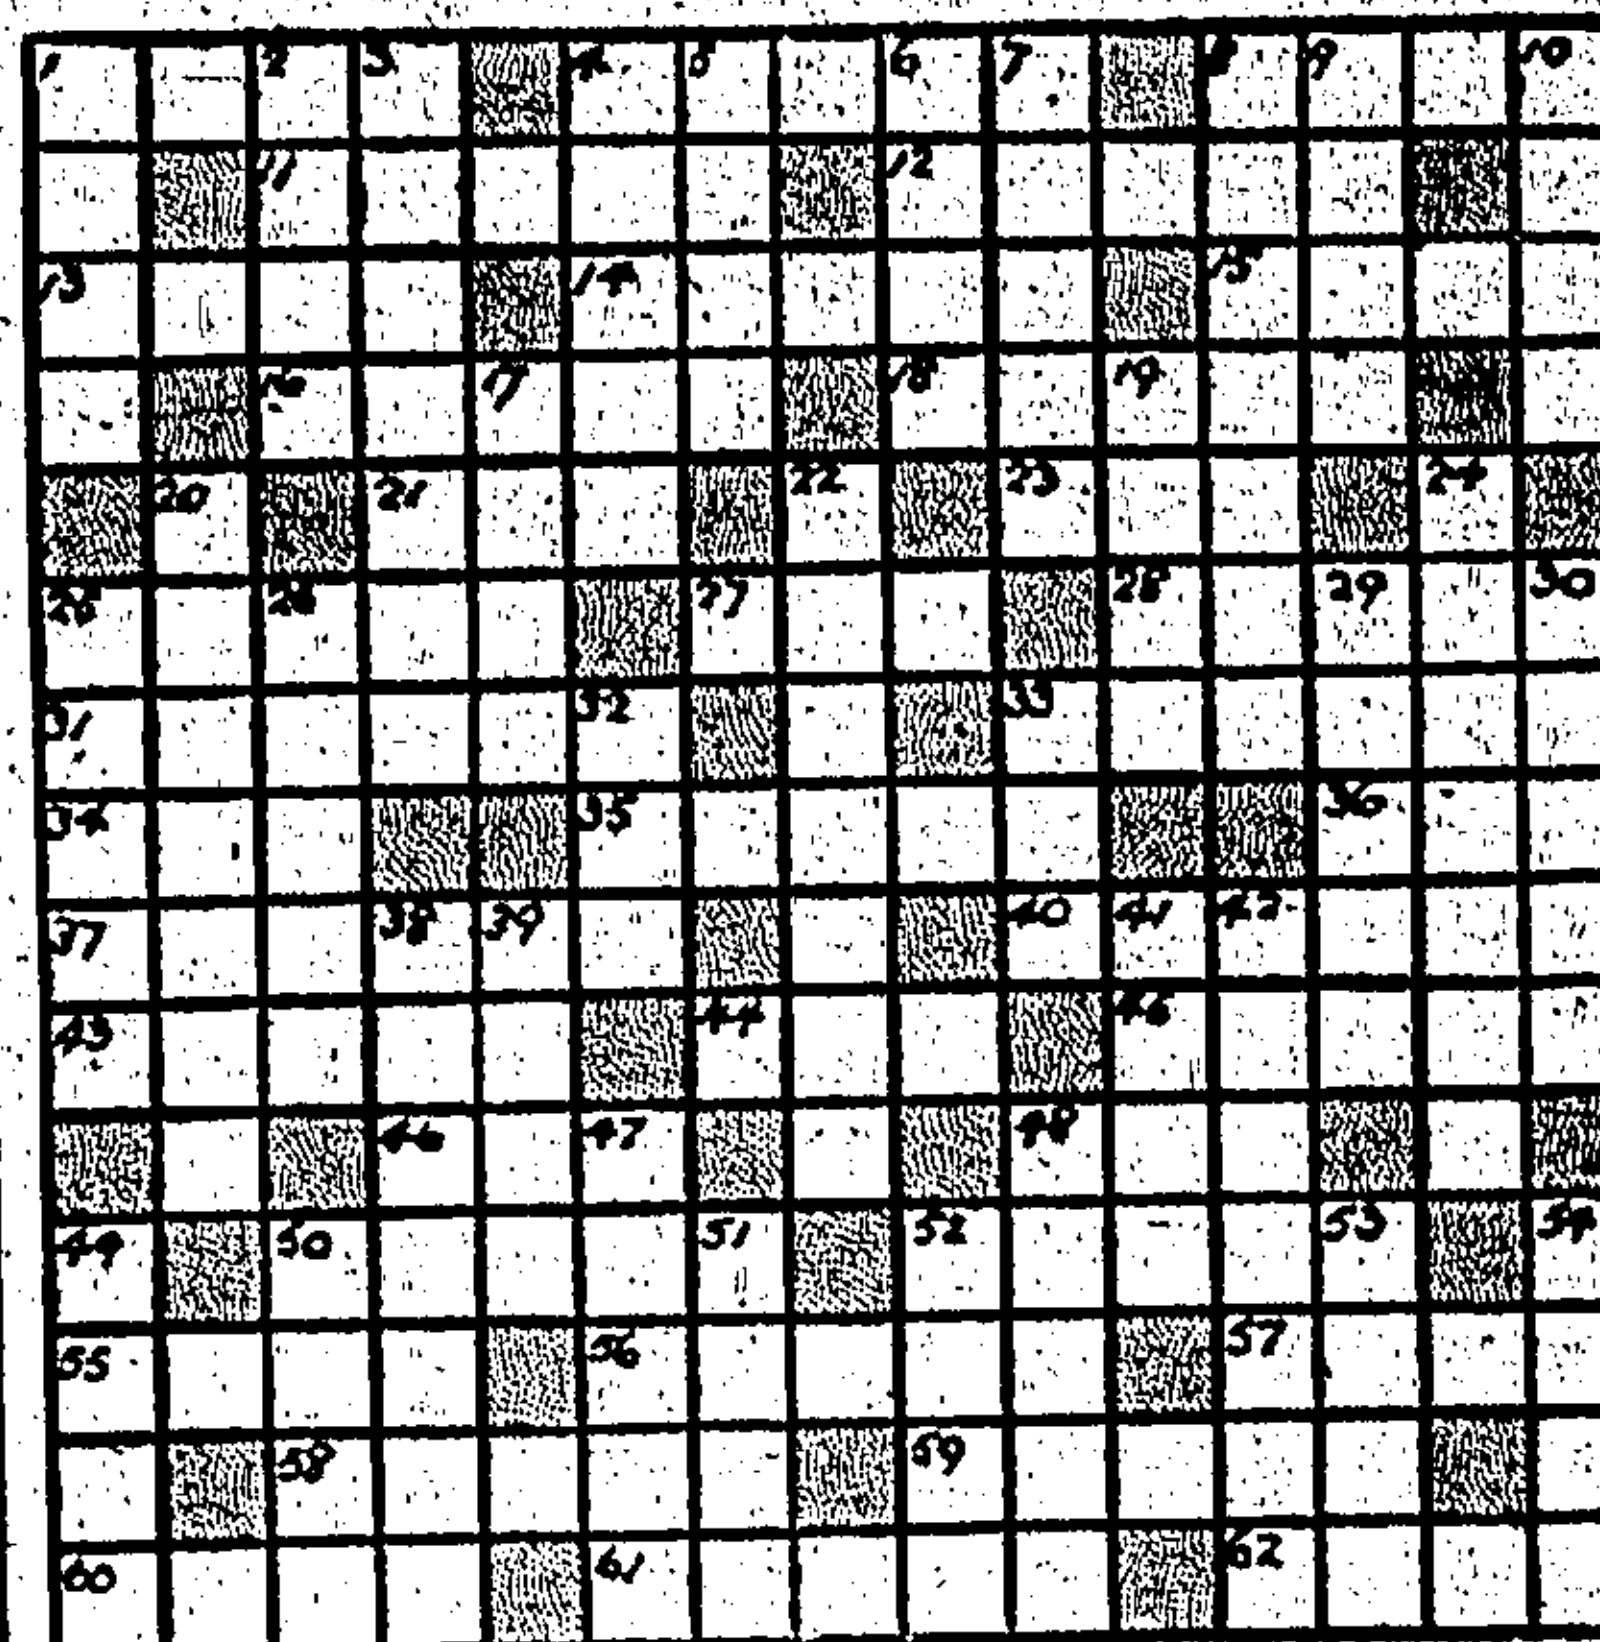

Fruit Punch.

One cup orange juice, 1-2 cup lemon juice, 1-2 cup grape fruit juice, 1 cup ginger ale, 1-3 cup syrup, 1 cup water.

Combine ingredients and chill. Add ice and serve.

Slices of peaches, oranges, bananas or lemons can be added to the punch. Small fruits and berries and sprigs of mint are also satisfactory garnishes.

HAUL OF HEROIN.

ELABORATE PLANT IN TIENTSIN CONCESSION.

Tientsin, Sept. 11.
An elaborate plant for the purpose of extracting heroin, was discovered yesterday morning in a private and apparently empty house in the British Concession.

The Fire Brigade, upon answering a call, found that a fire had been extinguished. Suspicious were aroused, however, and the police examined the house, in which most elaborate appliances were found.

It appears the heroin had been shipped from France in paste form, and had passed the Customs as floor polish, which it closely resembled. A machine for extraction of the narcotic from the polish, with several thousands of dollars worth of heroin, were confiscated.

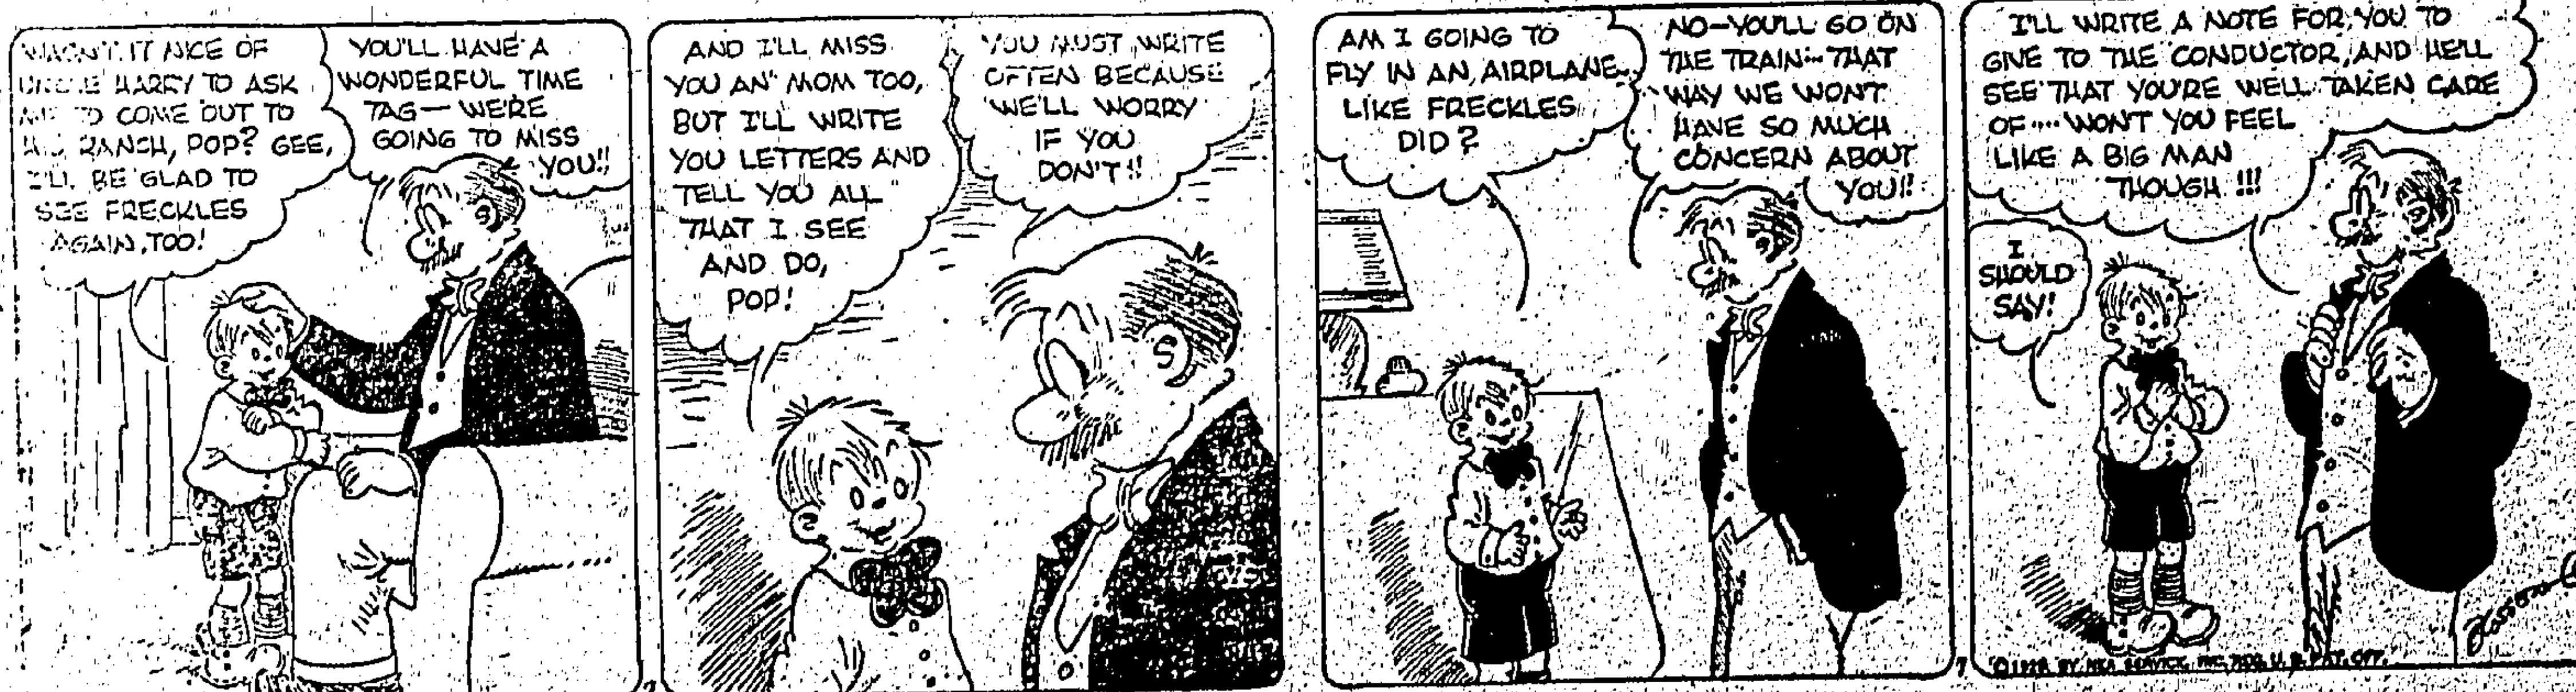

The police arrested a Russian Jew named Brinberg, who attempted to enter the house thinking the police searchers had departed.—Reuter.

He will sail on the Berengaria on the 28th inst. for the United States.—Reuter's American Service.

LAWLESSNESS IN CHINA.

The treatment meted out to members of the Basel Mission by bandits (as reported in our issue of yesterday) is illuminative of conditions which continue to prevail in many parts of China at the present moment. These perfectly innocent people, engaged on a work of mercy amongst the Chinese, were most brutally treated, witness the fact that besides kidnapping the three men of the party, the bandits went the length of placing ropes round the necks of the womenfolk and even bound up the poor little children, before departing. This incident is of compelling importance in view of the fact that German residents in China have no extrajurisdiction rights and are therefore at the mercy of Chinese misrule.

This particular case serves to illustrate the absence of real authority in the region where the outrage took place. In this locality, Communism appears to be rampant, as it is in many other parts of the country. For some time past, there has been talk of a concerted move from the three provinces of Fukien, Kiangsi and Kwangtung against the Communist hordes, more particularly against the force under the notorious leaders, Tsu and Mo. Lack of co-ordination between the provincial authorities, and, still more, their own subordination, coupled with the small prospect of material gain for the troops in such an expedition, have resulted in a masterly inactivity on the Government side and increased licence among the Communists. From the Kwangtung border of Fukien, Tsu and Mo appear to have recently travelled north and to have fallen on the city of Yung-chun, their appearance causing a panic at Chuanchow, a day's journey from Amoy. At last, however, the Central Government appears to be taking notice of developments, for a force of from ten to twenty thousand men, to operate irrespective of provincial boundaries, is said to be on the way, several having already appeared at Amoy. Unfortunately, however, Communism is only partially dealt with by an attack on such a force as that led by the two trouble-makers named. The strength of the Communist movement lies in propaganda, assiduously spread through the villages. The number of villages in which Communist cells have been formed has, we learn, increased to a startling degree in North-East Kwangtung during the past nine months, and ineffective and indiscriminate action by troops has only thrown large numbers of ordinary law-abiding villagers into the arms of the "Reds."

Evidence of lawlessness in many other parts of the country is not wanting. Several instances of the murder of missionaries have been reported in recent times, whilst "Red" bandits have been increasingly active in Kwangsi and Hupeh Provinces. It was, in fact, only a few days ago that news came through of Hupeh Communists pillaging and burning towns and massacring over three hundred families. When we consider the chaotic conditions which these facts reveal, and the dangers to which foreigners in the interior are exposed, little argument is needed to show what folly it would be were the Treaty Powers, at the present juncture, to agree to the demand for the abolition of extrajurisdiction. China's first business must be to ensure safety to life and property. That done, she may reasonably expect the extrajurisdiction system to go.

Calshot Speeds.

All concerned in the remarkable air exploits at Calshot these past few days, from the designers of the machines which have fully established Britain's air speed supremacy to the mechanics who were responsible for their absolute dependability in the crucial tests, cannot be too highly congratulated. The outstanding performance, of course, was Flying Officer Waghorn's victory in the Schneider Trophy Contest, while the most striking incident, probably, was Squadron-Leader Orlebar's disappointment on finding he had beaten the world's speed record by a matter of only 37 miles an hour, this after he had twice covered the marked course of three kilometres at speeds in excess of six miles a minute. In point of flying merit, however, the breaking of the record, where sharp bursts over a short distance is the essential, cannot compare with the feat of covering over 200 miles, with twenty-eight corners to negotiate, at an average speed of over 323 miles an hour. There is no means of telling exactly what speeds Flying Waghorn reached in the course of his brilliant flight, but it may be taken for granted that there were times when he drew very close to the speed of 303 m.p.h. which was recorded by his skipper, Orlebar, in the first lap of his successful attack upon the official speed record. An attempt is to be made to-day to drive the record still higher, as if we had not already set our foreign rivals a difficult enough problem as it is. The question now is whether such colossal speeds can ever be applied in a useful direction. The tendency of the future, it is fairly certain, will be to increase the travel rate of even passenger and commercial planes, though it would seem manifestly impossible to achieve such a standard as has been set at Calshot. A journey to Canton and back could be undertaken in half an hour, while a flight to Shanghai would occupy approximately two hours. Neither this generation nor the next is likely to see the development of ordinary aircraft to that stage, however.

A licensed stall-holder appeared before Mr. T. S. Whyte Smith at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning on a charge of hawking fruit away from his stall and of resisting arrest. The defendant, who struggled and ran away, had five previous convictions under the hawkers' regulations. His Worship imposed fines of $5 on each charge.

A coolie named Leung Man, aged 55, was killed at Connaught Road West yesterday at 6 p.m. through falling from a motor lorry.

A Chinese woman was fined $8 by Mr. T. S. Whyte Smith at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning for over crowding twelve chickens, while a man was fined $5 for carrying two fowls suspended by the legs.

Reported missing on Tuesday last, the body of Chan Kwok-hay, a student of St. Joseph's College, who went out bathing on Monday afternoon, was recovered by the Water Police off Ngau Sze Wan yesterday.

Wong Po-sam, 20, employed in No. 18, Macdonnell Road was sent to the Government Civil Hospital yesterday by Mr. Owen suffering from an injured spine through falling from a scaffolding at the above address.

A Chinese woman employed as an amah at No. 20, Swatow Street, Wanchai, was removed to the Government Civil Hospital yesterday as a result of a fall from the verandah whilst drying clothes. She later died at the hospital at 3 p.m.

Charged with returning from banishment, a Chinese, who was deported from Hongkong for five years in 1927, was sentenced to eight months' hard labour by Mr. T. S. Whyte Smith at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning. The defendant said that his house in the country had been demolished by typhoon and he had come to Hongkong for work.

Two Chinese who were charged before Mr. T. S. Whyte Smith at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning with being in possession of one and a half cattles of salt fish, reasonably suspected of having been stolen or unlawfully obtained, said that they had found the fish at the Kowloon Godowns. Each defendant was fined $5 or seven days' hard labour.

A fine of $2 was imposed on a Chinese cyclist who was charged before Mr. T. S. Whyte Smith at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning for riding his machine down Salisbury Road leading to the old Police Pier. His Worship remarked that that was a dangerous thing to do and pointed out that the buses leaving the stands had to make use of practically the entire roadway.

A fine of $1,560, with the alternative of seven months' hard labour, was imposed on a Chinese woman who appeared before Mr. T. S. Whyte Smith at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning, on a charge of being in possession of 52 tals of raw opium at the Kowloon Railway Station. When his Worship was told the defendant was a widow he exclaimed: "A widow! I thought she was a child."

The manager of the National Commercial Saving Bank, at No. 353, Nathan Road, was fined $10 by Mr. T. S. Whyte Smith at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning for keeping a dog without a licence and allowing the animal to be abroad without a muzzle. A fine of $5 was imposed on Mr. Arthur Alves, of No. 289, Kowloon Tong, the charge being that of allowing a dog abroad without a muzzle.

The loss of a bracelet set with twelve diamonds, valued at $1,500, has been reported to the Police. The bracelet belongs to Mrs. Cheung Kau, of 32 Kennedy Road, and she thinks that she lost it whilst attending a performance at the Queen's Theatre. She told the Police that probably the child with her may have kicked it off when held up to get a better view. Mrs. Cheung Kau paid a visit to the theatre later but was unable to discover the bracelet.

CORRESPONDENCE.

The Colony's Problems.

[To The Editor of Hongkong Telegraph.]

Sir,—Readers of the Telegraph have secretly admired your spirited protest against the local Budget and the frittering away of public funds in salaries, but beyond that, I ask you, is any action going to be taken?

Is the taxpayer going to sit tight and allow the Government to fill the pockets of its employees and keep others in jobs on unnecessary schemes, whilst the Colony, as far as business is concerned, is going to the dogs?

What are our Unofficial members doing? Hasn't any one of them got the courage of his convictions to speak out on behalf of the public? Haven't we any public-spirited citizen in our midst who has the interest of the Colony at heart? Must it always be left to the Editors of a couple of the leading papers to take up the cudgels on behalf of the taxpayers?

I am sure nobody begrudges an increase in the salaries to some of the Civil Servants who might be underpaid, but when it comes to costing the exchequer $1,800,000 for the first year and more as every year goes on in yearly increments and pensions, it is time some public protest was made asking for a Commission of Business Men appointed by the Public—not nominated by the Government—to look into things.

With business in the Colony going from bad to worse and economy and retrenchment the slogan of all the business houses, it is surprising to find the Government spending money on schemes which can well be put off until the tide changes and the Colony's trade improves.

The first concern of the Government should be to put the Colony's currency on a proper footing.

The present premium of notes over the silver dollar is approximately 15% which even the uninitiated knows is accentuating the present depression in the trade of the Colony. What is the Government doing about it?

The silver dollar is supposed to be legal tender in the Colony, but is it? Why does the Post Office refuse to accept a silver dollar in payment of postage stamps?

If something is not done soon, the Government will have to start relief works, not for keeping some of their employees in jobs, but for the business houses here who are finding it hard to make ends meet.

Before I close, can any of your readers supply figures showing the personnel of the Civil Servants in Hongkong in the various Government Departments? It would be very interesting if compared with our other Colonies and dependencies.

I again ask what are the Unofficial European and Chinese members of the Legislative Council doing?

The maskee germ seems to be eating away the very marrow of Hongkong.

I enclose my card.—Yours, etc.

K.M.A.

Garden Road Damage.

Sir,—Many of the Colony's problems have been broached in your columns recently, and to add a little to the list of subjects requiring action, I would like to refer to what I understand is an old bone of contention.

I refer to the exit from Garden Road, and should like to know when it will be improved. That such a cross-road exists in its present condition is surprising and beyond the understanding of those who are daily dashing across it. An island for pedestrians has been laid down at the Star Ferry exit, although Garden Road is a crossing much more dangerous to negotiate. A pedestrian has to make a blind rush, or is left in midstream clinging to the policeman's hand (unless left stranded by that unfortunate building on the corner of Murray Parade Ground). Perhaps the Medical Department can do something. There may be no germs, but it is a decidedly unpleasant place to be held up by the red flashes.—Yours etc.

The Very Idea!

Who made the first doughnut? This question is now exercising the emotions of the bakers of France, England and America.

The doughnut is a pastry with 400 years of family history, and the bakers are celebrating the quadricentennial of the sweetmeat.

"Vive les Doughnuts!" is the pastry-cook's song, though no baker in England, France, Germany or America seems to know who made the first. There are Germans who say that it is from Vienna but the French claim it.

The truth is that its name may be traced to the Icelandic word "dalg." In academic circles it is dismissed as "sweetened dough fried in fat."

No one knows when it came to England.

M. Latty, of the Savoy, takes the doughnut for granted. M. Gailliot, of the Metropole, and a culinary historian, shakes his head. The Societe Culinaire referred me to the Food and Cookery Association, and at Caddy Hall, where millions of doughnuts are "shot" with jam daily, they thought the doughnut was as English as Yorkshire pudding.

If the bakers of France carry out their suggestions for the quadricentennial there will be floats carrying gigantic doughnuts.

Wilkesden Magistrate, to a woman—You have often successfully used your wiles here, but their force is now spent and a committal order is granted.

Mr. W. B. Luko, Wilkesden Magistrate—No law exists to deal adequately with the man who strikes his mother. Only public contempt at all meets the case.

Man at Marylebone County Court—My knowledge of County Court procedure is limited to its representation on the stage. Judge Snagge—Are County Courts represented on the stage, then? Man—Only as a joke, of course.

Bobby was spending the first morning of his holiday shopping with his mother in the West-end. In the course of their stroll they stood and looked at a window display of gowns on beautiful wax models.

"Mummy," asked Bob afterwards, "was that where daddy bought you?"

The sergeant asked the squad to stand at ease whilst he addressed a few remarks to them.

"When I was a little lad," he said, "my mother gave me a box of wooden soldiers, and I used to play with them all day long. One day my box of soldiers got lost. I cried a lot about them, and at last my mother said, 'Never mind, my boy, don't cry any more. You'll get your wooden soldiers back some day.'"

"And by all the Powers," added the sergeant bitterly, "I've got them back now!"

WHO WAS—?

PROMETHEUS.

Prometheus, one of the Titans, or elder gods, gave great offence to his peers of the Upper World by stealing fire from Heaven, where it was a zealously guarded secret, and bestowing it upon the sons of men.

For his offence, Zeus, or Jupiter, the King of Heaven, caused him to be bound to a mighty mountain, where vultures were instructed to eat out his heart, and the furies to rage around his head. He was eventually rescued from his fate by Hercules.

Prometheus is the first legendary benefactor of the human race, for the fire which he gave to mortals enabled mankind to fashion instruments which would till the earth; and, indeed, the whole industrial world of to-day may be said to date from his gift, since what thing could we make without fire?

Prometheus was a favourite character of the old Greek dramatists, and the tale is one which has inspired much subsequent poetry; but perhaps the best known work of all is Shelley's fine poem "Prometheus Unbound."

CANTON-KOWLOON RAILWAY.NIGHT EXPRESSES MAY BE RESUMED.*CUTTING DOWN TIME.

Canton, Sept. 11. It is said that an additional evening train may be put on each way between Canton and Kowloon in the near future.

There are already two express trains each way daily, leaving Canton at 8.10 a.m. and 3.25 p.m. and arriving in Kowloon at 12.07 p.m. and 7.22 p.m.; and leaving Kowloon at 8.05 a.m. and 3.20 p.m. and arriving in Canton at 12.05 p.m. and 7.18 p.m.

It is now proposed to put on an additional train each way leaving at about 6 p.m. and arriving at their destinations shortly before 10 p.m.

The Railway is doing all possible to compete with the various river steamship companies and it must be said that the train route has been growing more and more popular lately, both amongst the Chinese, who constitute the bulk of the passengers, and foreigners.

New engines and coaches have been ordered by the Railway Administration some time ago and these should be arriving soon. Furthermore the track, which had fallen into a considerable state of disrepair, has been receiving a lot of attention lately and new sleepers are being laid.

In fact it is hoped that as soon as the new sleepers are laid for the whole distance, the service will be quickened up still more, the object of the Administration being to cut the time of the journey down to not more than three and a half hours.

It will be remembered that many years ago there was a night service of express trains, but it was discontinued owing to banditry. Now, however, banditry has practically been exterminated in the part of the Province through which the line passes, and in any case, all the trains are provided with adequate military and police protection along the Chinese section.—Our Own Correspondent.

Monsieur le Ministre, I have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of Your Excellency's note of April 27 expressing on behalf of the Chinese Government the desire of China to have the restrictions on her jurisdictional sovereignty removed and the hope that the Norwegian Government will take this desire into immediate and sympathetic consideration in order to enable China to assume jurisdiction over all nationals within her domain.

Having communicated the contents of the note to my Government, I am now instructed to recall to Your Excellency that the Norwegian Government has already, in concluding, on November 12 last year, a new treaty with the Chinese Government, given concrete evidence of the friendly feelings which Norway has always entertained towards China and the Chinese people.

Assurance Reiterated. My Government now desires me to reiterate the assurance, already expressed on that occasion, that the same friendly feelings will not be found to have changed when the question of revising other clauses of the treaty of 1847 between Norway and China is brought up for discussion.

As to the question of removing the restrictions on China's jurisdictional sovereignty (by relinquishing the consular jurisdiction) this question was already given sympathetic consideration when, in 1926, a Norwegian delegate joined the international commission to inquire into extraterritorial jurisdiction in China.

I may add that the administration of the Norwegian jurisdiction in China has never been extended beyond the purpose for which it was introduced, and I am directed to state in conclusion that my Government has no desire to maintain the Consular Court longer than considered necessary and is prepared to abolish the same when all the other treaty powers will do so.

I avail myself of this opportunity to renew to Your Excellency, Monsieur le Ministre, the assurance of my highest consideration.

Netherlands Reply.

Nanking, Sept. 5. The following is the English translation of the reply of the Netherlands Government to China's note concerning the abolition of extra-territoriality.

LEGATION DES PAYS-BAS,

Peking, Aug. 10, 1929.

Monsieur le Ministre, I have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of Your Excellency's note of April 27 last in which the Chinese Government expresses the hope that His Majesty's Government would take into sympathetic consideration the desire of China to come to an agreement by which the limitations on her jurisdictional sovereignty will be removed and which will enable the Chinese Government to assume jurisdiction over all nationals within its domain.

SEVEN CASES FOR SESSIONS.THREE MURDER TRIALS IN IN CALENDAR.*STARTING ON MONDAY.

Seven cases, including three alleged murders and the Kowloon rape case are set down for trial at this month's Criminal Sessions, which commence at the Supreme Court on Monday next.

The only case to be called before the Chief Justice on that day will be one in which Lam Ling is charged with the murder of Sapuran Singh on July 10.

Before the Puisne Judge, Wong Yee-him will face a charge that on August 9, with others not in custody, he assaulted the occupants of No. 7, Kiu Yiu Fong, second floor, with intent to rob. Tung Yee-hing and Yuen Ping-chung are indicted in connexion with the robbery at the Sincere Company on the night of July 25-26. There are two counts against the former, one of breaking into the premises and stealing many jade articles, and a second of breaking out of the premises. Yuen Ping-chung is indicted for receiving some of the goods, knowing them to have been stolen.

The last case on Monday concerns a charge of offering a bribe of $20 to Mr. W.R. Hillyer, Chief Junk Inspector, brought against Ip Lam.

On Tuesday, two cases of murder are scheduled to come before the Chief Justice, one accused being Yung Kwai-tin, alias Lau Sung-tin who is alleged to have murdered Ah Tsoi, alias Yeng Lek-hong, at Cross Street, Wanchai and the other being Yim Yat-hong, charged with the murder of Lo Kau at Second Street, West Point.

The actual times of trial will depend on the time taken to dispose of the cases.

There is only one case before the Puisne Judge on Tuesday, the accused being Luis Oliva, who will face charges of rape and indecent assault on Mrs. Natividad Frailladona on the second floor of No. 5, King's Terrace, Yau-matli, and also with assaulting her husband.

lency's Note of April 27 last in which the Chinese Government expresses the hope that His Majesty's Government would take into sympathetic consideration the desire of China to come to an agreement by which the limitations on her jurisdictional sovereignty will be removed and which will enable the Chinese Government to assume jurisdiction over all nationals within its domain.

Your Excellency expressed the conviction that the reciprocal advantages resulting from the tariff convention recently concluded between our two countries would be considerably enhanced if the relations between our two countries were regulated on the basis of equality in matters of jurisdiction, and that by the abolition of the system of consular jurisdiction an obstacle would be removed for the full co-operation between the Chinese people and foreign nationals especially in commercial matters; the desire of the Chinese Government for promoting the material interests of all who choose to associate themselves with the Chinese people would in that act find its early realization.

Will Act With Powers.

Her Majesty's Government has given this request its most careful consideration, and now instructs me to inform Your Excellency that just as it was happy to join the other Powers in bringing about the Resolution adopted on December 10, 1921 by the Washington Conference on the Limitation of Armament, which placed on record its sympathetic disposition towards China's aspiration, so it will be pleased to co-operate with these Powers and with China for the realization and fulfilment of China's desire with regard to the question of jurisdiction.

It may here be recalled that with this end in view Her Majesty's Government wholeheartedly participated in the work of the International Commission which was instituted as a result of the above mentioned Resolution and which drew up a number of valuable recommendations for the benefit of the Chinese Government.

Must Reform Institutions.

It cannot be gainsaid that there exists a close relationship between the internal situation of China, the guarantees which the laws offer to foreign rights and interests and their administration in the whole of China on the one hand and the measure of progress which it will be possible to make on the road to abolition of the special arrangements now in force with regard to foreigners on the other. The possibility for Netherlands subjects to enjoy liberty of trade, of residence and of the exercise of

ARMS RELEASED BY HONGKONG.NEGOTIATIONS WITH CANTON CONCLUDED.*SENT UP BY TRAIN.

Canton, Sept. 11. Since his inauguration as the Commissioner of Foreign Affairs for Kwangtung, Mr. Tao Lichien has spared no efforts in clearing up all the old cases accumulated in his office by the former administration, says the Canton Gazette.

In addition to the many cases he had successfully settled, we now learn that he has obtained release for a consignment of arms which had been detained by the British authorities in Hongkong since the beginning of this year.

It will be remembered that some time ago last year, Army officers of the Provincial Government purchased a quantity of arms and ammunition to be brought into Kwangtung for official use and while the shipment was arriving in Hongkong, the British authorities seized it and the question for its release had been held in suspension until yesterday.

After negotiating for the release of the shipments with the Hongkong Government and British Consulate in Shanghai, Mr. Tao instructed his Chief Secretary, Mr. Cheng-lin, to go down to Hongkong with Capt. Wong Hoi-yang, who was in direct connexion with the case. Mr. Cheng delivered Mr. Tao's messages in detail to the Hongkong authorities and interviewed the Commissioner of Customs and had the whole shipment released from godowns at Kowloon, yesterday afternoon.

The afternoon express train carried the shipment to Canton with the representative of the Foreign Commissioner and Capt. Wong, who assures us that Kwangtung is very fortunate indeed in having such an able and energetic man as Mr. Tao, to be Commissioner for Foreign Affairs.

civil rights including that of owning property throughout the whole of China is in the same way closely connected with the degree of security existing in the interior of the country and with the question of what safeguards the Chinese judicial institution offer with a view to their independence and their immunity from interference by military and political authorities.

I am desired by Her Majesty's Government to assure Your Excellency of its unalterable sympathy towards China with regard to this question and of its readiness when the introduction and the effective acceptance by the country of modern institutions guaranteeing the administration of just laws by an independent and unassailable judiciary will have rendered useful reforms possible in the matter of jurisdiction over Netherlands nationals, to act in unison with the Governments of the Powers who were represented at the Conference of Washington with the object of examining the possibility of meeting the aspiration to which the Chinese Delegation at the said Conference gave expression, and which is reiterated in Your Excellency's Note under reply.

I avail myself of this opportunity to renew to Your Excellency the assurance of my highest consideration.

TROUSERS THEFT SEQUEL.PAWNBROKER FINED AT THE KOWLOON COURT.*GOVT. PROPERTY.

There was a sequel, before Mr. T. S. Whyte Smith at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning, of a recent larceny by a seaman, attached to the Water Police Station who, was some short time ago sentenced for stealing a pair of trousers and for unlawfully pawning part of his kit.

It will be recalled that at the man's trial it was mentioned that a pair of trousers bearing the Government mark was pawned by the seaman, and that action was being taken against the pawnbroker for receiving the article.

An assistant of the pawnshop accordingly appeared before Mr. T. S. Whyte Smith this morning on a charge of taking the trousers in pawn.

Mr. F. C. E. Rendall appeared for the defendant and entered a plea of guilty to a technical offence. He mentioned that the assistant had not examined the trousers as he should have. Mr. Rendall said the man did not know the Government mark of a broad arrow, especially when it was mixed with English words.

The defence asked for leniency, intimating that it was the first offence against the shop, which had been carrying on business for the past twenty years.

His Worship said he did not think he could regard the charge as a technical offence, but would take into consideration what Mr. Rendall had said.

A fine of $50 was imposed and the trousers ordered to be returned to the Government without compensation.

"WHILE THE CITY SLEEPS."LON CHANEY FILM AT THE QUEEN'S.

Many interesting devices were used to film the new play "While the City Sleeps," the attraction at the Queen's Theatre. In one scene the cameras were shielded by bullet-proof glass while actual bullets were used to shoot down doors in a vivid machine gun battle between police and gangsters.

Great mirrors were used, to project light "around the corner" for the mysterious scenes in the undertaker's grotto, and a camera that followed the actor upstairs using the stair rail as a sort of railroad track was used in the strange effect when he captures the crooks in their secret lair in the garret.

In the new picture Chaney plays a police detective who is pitted against a gangster band to save a girl and her lover from their machinations. Jack Conway, who directed "Twelve Miles Out," directed the new play, and Anita Page, new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer "Discovery," plays the heroine. Others in the cast are Carroll Nye, Wheeler Oakman, Richard Carle, Lydia Yeamans Titus, Clinton Lyle, Polly Moran, William Orlamond, and others of note.

OPIUM SHIPPED AS PIECE-GOODS.SENT FROM HONGKONG TO MANILA.*SEIZED ON ARRIVAL.

An interesting case concerning the exportation of a sack of opium, disguised as piece-goods, to Manila, where it was seized by the Customs, was mentioned before Mr. E. W. Hamilton at the Central Police Court this morning.

In appearing for Lam Kau, charged under the Opium and Dangerous Drugs Ordinance with unlawfully exporting over 2,000 taels of opium, valued at $25,000, Mr. Leo d'Almada called for information with regard to the attitude of the Revenue Office in the case.

Revenue Officer Grimmitt said the exportation was one made to Manila, and his Department were waiting for His Excellency the Governor's decision as to whether it would be worth while to have a Customs officer from Manila for his evidence.

Mr. Hamilton said he would want evidence of arrest, and the facts turning on it.

Mr. Grimmitt said that at the present juncture an adjournment was desirable. When the case came up for hearing, the Superintendent of Imports and Exports would be appearing to prosecute.

Upon his Worship calling for facts connected with the seizure, Revenue Officer Grimmitt said that a man whom they would say, was the accused, went to the offices of the Admiral Oriental Line, and there, in shipping a bale of piece-goods, consigned to a man named Wong Yick in Manila, took out a bill of lading. The bill was made out and payment for freightage was made by the accused.

Subsequently, the bale was seized upon being landed from the President Jackson at Manila. It was the same bale as that sent from Hongkong, containing not piece-goods, but 2,000 taels of opium.

Mr. Hamilton said that the Revenue Office, to prove its case, had to prove shipment, the point of its being the same bale that was seized, and the seizure. If it was necessary he could take evidence that the man could be identified here as the man who shipped the bale.

Replying to a doubt expressed by Mr. d'Almada, Mr. Grimmitt said they could give the undertaking that by next week they would be in a position to say whether the witness from Manila was coming.

After further discussion, in which it was mentioned that the probable fine would amount to $250,000, the case was adjourned until next Thursday.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION.COURSE TO BE GIVEN AT TECHNICAL INSTITUTE.

In connexion with the Technical Institute, it is proposed to open a class in Physical Instruction, should there be a sufficient number of entries. The Class is primarily for lady teachers, and is designed to qualify them to give instruction in Physical Training in schools.

The Instructor will be Miss D. M. Jaques, Physical Instruction Mistress of the Education Department, and the Syllabus will be as follows:

Practical.—For the physical training of those attending the course: (a) Free-standing gymnastics, (b) Physical exercises, (c) Gymnastics without apparatus.

Indoor games suitable for local schools.

Simple exercises which may be taken in schools by the class teacher.

Theory.—(a) The function of muscles, (b) the effect of physical exercise on (c) the Theory underlying the simple exercises.

The Class is to meet one evening each week and will, in the first instance, extend over a term of four months, at the end of which period the advisability of an extension of the course will be considered.

The fee for the term is $10, payable in advance, and ladies wishing to join should communicate at once with Mrs. Minett, M.D. (Medical Officer for Schools) or with the Technical Institute Clerk, at the Education Office.

It is explained that teachers in Government service who pass the examination in this subject, will have their fee refunded, whilst efficient members of the St. John Ambulance Brigade may attend any class on payment of half the usual fee, and the fee so paid may be refunded on their passing the examination held at the end of the session.

Revenue Officer A. Grimmitt said the man represented by Mr. Lo was compromised by a statement by

In appearing for two men, charged before Mr. E. W. Hamilton at the Central Police Court this morning with the possession of contraband opium, Mr. Hin-shing Lo said his client had a straightforward story to advance to the Court. The defence was in a position to say that the man was a very respectable individual, very well connected with Macao merchants, and had two brothers occupying good positions in Hongkong.

Revenue Officer A. Grimmitt said the man represented by Mr. Lo was compromised by a statement by the other accused to the effect that he was the owner of a basket of flowers in which the drug was secreted. A detective, had made exhaustive enquiries consequent on this allegation, but had discovered nothing against the character of the man thus implicated.

Mr. Hamilton decided to discharge the man represented by Mr. Lo, and in considering the case against the other accused, was informed by Mr. Grimmitt that as far as the Revenue Department were concerned, they were satisfied that the opium was found in his possession.

His Worship, while agreeing that the onus was on this accused to explain his possession of the drug, said that, on the other hand, his story might be true. His Worship said he would exercise his powers of discretion in this case and discharge the second accused also.

SHAMEEN CRICKET.

NAVAL TEAM NARROWLY BEATEN.

The Shameen Sports Club again inflicted defeat on H.M.S. Cicala in a cricket match played on the Fatui ground yesterday afternoon. This time, however, it was by the very narrow margin of seven runs.

Winning the toss, Cicala went in first and compiled 62 runs, only two men reaching double figures. Lieutenant Commander Bostock scored 40, and Surgeon-Lieutenant Bolton 20. Hill took four wickets for 15 runs.

The opening of the Shameen innings looked very much like disaster. Linaker and Evans opened, but Linaker was run out in the second over after scoring one. Lancaster, the next man in, was caught at mid-off for a duck and Evans was clean bowled shortly afterwards for 1. Three wickets being down for 7. Hill was the only member of the Shameen team that made anything like a score, knocking out 29 before being caught off Glynn. Five wickets were down for 18, and it was only on the sixth wicket, which F. E. W. Lammert kept up while Hill made the runs, that a good stand was made. Lammert was bowled and caught, a splendid catch, by Glynn for 8, six wickets being down for 44. The next wicket fell with the addition of only two runs. Hill falling a victim to Glynn for 29. Green knocked up, 13 not out, including three 4's, whilst R. T. O. Lammert scored 10 before being clean bowled by Maybourn. Ferrier, the last man in, was bowled by Maybourn first ball, Shameen being all out for 69. A feature of the game was the very excellent fielding on the part of the Cicala scores:

INTERPORT BOWLS.

HONGKONG TEAM TO MEET SHANGHAI.

The Committee charged with the selection of the Hongkong Interport lawn bowls team, consisting of Messrs. A. O. Brown (Convener), P. Farrell, H. Overy and J. Massey (ex-officio) met last evening and decided upon the following four players:

- J. Laing (Talkoo) No. 1.
- R. Bass (Craigengower) No. 2.
- A. W. Grimmitt (C.S.C.C.) No. 3.
- J. Ferguson (Talkoo) (Skip).

The Shanghai team are leaving on the Empress boat on September 23 and will have their first match on the Interport green at the Kowloon Cricket Club on Tuesday, October 1. The Interport match was fixed for Saturday, October 6.

Three of the selected four have previously represented Hongkong in Interport games—Laing, Grimmitt and Ferguson. Laing and Grimmitt were in the team which defeated Shanghai in the Northern port last year.

This will be Laing's third successive Interport match. He has always been regarded as one of the best No. 1's in the Colony and has played regularly in this position until this season. In Talkoo's opening games he started off as No. 1 but was then removed to No. 3, but he was transferred to the No. 1 position for the last three matches. He has been showing consistent form throughout the season.

R. Bass will appear in his first Interport. In view of his performances as Craigengower skip this year, his claims could not very well be overlooked. He has been the most successful skip in the league, and has shown in the Open Singles that he can also play in other positions. His selection will meet with general approval.

A. W. Grimmitt is another very successful skip. In Shanghai last year he played a sterling game as No. 2. He is a player who can drive or draw, has the right temperament for a big match and should be an ideal No. 3 to Ferguson.

Ferguson was an unanimous choice for the position of skip. He skipped a successful Hongkong Interport team at Talkoo and then won handsomely. A sound and experienced player, who knows all there is to know about the game, he will not let the team down. Incidentally, he defeated Cullen in the Open Singles last evening, about which more will appear in "Spectator's" column tomorrow.

Two very capable reserves have been picked in Grey and Cullen. Both are Kowloon Dock men and have been showing great form in recent matches.

EXTRA RACE MEETINGS.

NEW STANDS BEING GOT READY.

An advertisement appearing elsewhere gives the dates provisionally fixed for the Jockey Club's Extra Race Meetings.

We learn that the Stewards entertained grave doubts as to the advisability of holding Extra Meetings in October, and it was only on the representations of members, owners and the public, and in the interests of the sport, that they have agreed to do so.

No effort has been spared in pushing forward the erection of the new stands and probably the rate of progress in the face of adverse circumstances constitutes a record for building construction in the Colony.

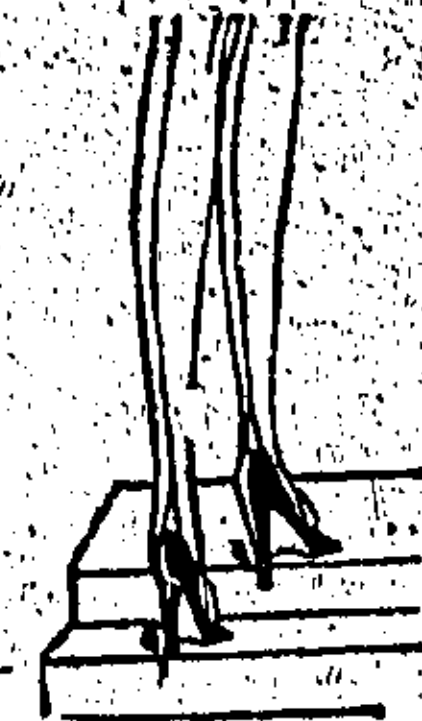

Members and the public will be catered for to the best ability of the Club, and it is hoped to hold successful Extra Race Meetings in spite of temporary inconveniences. There will be only one pari-mutual completed for the first few meetings and no private boxes.

'Now The Picture Of Health.'

"The picture of health." That is how her friends describe Miss Vera Barwell, an attractive young lady of twenty, who resides at 12 Queen's Crescent, Lincoln, England. Yet until a few months ago Miss Barwell was so enfeebled by anaemia that she felt life a burden.

"For four years", she said when describing her case recently, "I was very ill. I got into such a state that it seemed too much trouble to do anything. I felt as if I didn't care what happened. My appetite went; I lost weight and got very pale and thin."

"Mother took me to the doctor, who said I was run down and anemic. We spent pounds on medicine, but nothing seemed to do me any good."

"Then we read about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I decided to try them. Soon after commencing to take the Pills I felt different altogether. I had more energy and could eat better. And as I continued with them I put on weight. By the time I had taken three bottles of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I was quite fit again. Now my friends say that I look 'the picture of health'."

The secret of the world-wide success of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People as a specific for disorders due to poor blood and debilitated nerves lies in their unique formula, the outcome of years of close study and experimentation on the part of a British physician—Dr. J. C. Williams—of Edinburgh University, Scotland. Within this formula are contained ingredients of the utmost value in rapidly creating new, rich, red, nerves. Furthermore, there is one of such paramount importance that it is recognized by experts in medical science as essential to the sustenance of life itself.

CHAPTER XXXVIII.

When Jerry emerged from Mr. Weinert's office she was all aglow with happy excitement. There had been a moment when she felt the nausea of failure rise within her but Weinert's next words had dispelled that sensation.

"We have decided to put Jane Ormy back in her place," he had said in the beginning of the interview. Jerry stared at him, wordless. "To give you a chance to go on with Jack Beals," he added with a beaming smile.

Jack Beals! The best dancer in the show!

"You mean just Mr. Beals and me?" Jerry stammered, unable to believe that it could be so.

"That's right, Miss Ray. You and the boy. We've got to pep up that second act before we take the show back to New York. It can't hold 'em for the big idea in the third. Clever man, Harsell, very clever."

Jerry knew, of course, that he referred to what the entire company was still talking about, the way Harsell had led the audience to believe they were in for an evening of disappointment before springing that garden pool scene on them.

"But I am," Jerry paused. She was about to say "inexperienced," when she thought of Evelyn and what her friend would say to her if she talked herself out of a chance like this.

Mr. Weinert, however, seemed to read her mind. "Sure, you'd flop alone," he said frankly, "but Jack can see you through—if you work hard enough. We'll start rehearsing you together in Boston to-morrow afternoon. By the way," he added as Jerry started to speak, "you're driving up to New York with Al aren't you?"

Jerry nodded, knowing he meant Alister.

"Well, see that you get to Boston in time for rehearsal," the producer went on soberly. "There will be some complaints about our putting you in ahead of girls who dance better than you do. If you start being temperamental we'll take you out."

Jerry flushed. She knew what the other girls would say. Up went her chin. "I'll make good," she declared warmly, "but I don't want to get by on anything except my ability."

Mr. Weinert smiled. "Don't get excited," he purred. "Don't I know? When Hulle gets through with you even Laurel herself won't have much on your stuff. Maybe I'd better tell you that Al hasn't had anything to do with your promotion; he continued more seriously. "We believe we can depend upon you, Miss Ray, and all that anybody says to the contrary, clean living counts for as much on the stage as anywhere else."

Jerry's fierceness disappeared. "I won't be late to-morrow," she said earnestly.

"Then buck yourself in early to-night like a good little girl so you won't oversleep," Mr. Weinert warned her and got up to walk to the door with her. Jerry was too excited to appreciate the attention.

She rushed back to her hotel to tell Evelyn the news and to hurry with her unfinished packing. Evelyn was just as enthusiastic as Jerry. They had to talk it over for 10 minutes before they could think of anything else. Suddenly Evelyn looked at her watch.

"I've just time to make the train," she exclaimed, jumping off the bed to grab her hat.

"It can't be so late," Jerry said. "Alister hasn't come yet and he promised to drive you to the station."

"I'll take a cab," Evelyn returned, rushing to gather up her umbrella and handbag.

She was halfway out of the door when the telephone rang and Alister sent up word that he was waiting.

"I'd go with you," Jerry said, "but I've got to get packed in a hurry. We're leaving as soon as Alister comes back."

Evelyn stopped and looked at her with a suddenly grave expression. "I wish you were coming with me," she said. Then, excitedly, "Jerry, you won't miss the train in the morning?"

"If I do I'll get there even if I have to sprout wings and fly," Jerry laughed.

"You'd better depend upon the train," Evelyn called back as she hastened on to the elevator.

A bell boy got off and Jerry showed him Evelyn's travelling bags. When the door closed behind him she busied herself in packing her own belongings.

Alister was back in a short while. Jerry was ready, looking very lovely in the new coat. Her spirits soared as she went down to the lobby.

"My things are upstairs," she said to Alister.

"We will get them after lunch," he told her.

Jerry regarded him in surprise. "After lunch?" she echoed. "Why, it's only 10.30 now. I don't think we ought to wait for lunch."

"But we must," Alister replied. "I took Miss Starr to the station in a taxi. My car's in the garage for repairs. It won't be ready before three o'clock."

"Oh, Alister," Jerry waited. "We won't get to New York before night."

"What of that?" he asked her. Jerry told him about the new part she was to have in the show. He congratulated her and seemed genuinely pleased, but he saw no reason for any anxiety about getting to Boston on time.

"I'll see that you get there," he promised, "but I think we ought to do something to celebrate the occasion."

The suggestion made Jerry uneasy. "Oh please let's start as soon as we can," she said hastily. "I ought to be near the show."

"Now, see here," Alister replied with a touch of asperity. "I always have to argue with you, Jerry. Aren't you ever going to do as I like without making a fuss about it?"

"But Alister, you know..." "I know that you aren't treating me fairly," he interrupted hotly. "What harm can it do you to make our last evening together a pleasant one? You know I'm not going to see you again until your show comes back to New York. I've promised mother to go on her cruise to Nova Scotia."

"We could celebrate when you come back," Jerry began hopefully.

"Jerry," Alister broke in, "just this once let me have my way. I've planned a little dinner party in Philadelphia, wired a few friends yesterday. They're people I want you to meet—one of the girls is going on the cruise. This isn't a theatrical party or an affair like that one at Leontine's. Please don't disappoint me this time."

Jerry wished very much that she had taken the train with Evelyn for she knew, before Alister had censured his pleading, that she was not going to hold out against him. After all, it did seem a bit silly to insist upon getting home, by 10 o'clock. And they would have to get dinner somewhere.

She asked how much longer it would take them to go by way of Philadelphia.

Alister said about two hours. "I can make a wonderful time to Philly," he said, "and the roads to New York will be clearer at night. You will be home around one."

"All right," Jerry said, thinking that one o'clock was about her usual bedtime anyway. And she was in the habit of getting up early. Her short theatrical career hadn't yet accustomed her to late sleeping. Besides, there had been morning rehearsals to get her out of bed on most days.

They walked to the Boardwalk and took a chair car. After a half-hour of this form of promenading Alister suggested a ride in a speedboat.

Jerry had seen these boats, with seats like those in automobiles and the same kind of steering wheel. She thought it would be fascinating to go out in one.

Motion was always exhilarating to her, she said to Alister, and he promised to take her up in his plane when he got back from the cruise. His promise brought Dan Harvey to Jerry's mind.

"Teach me to steer," she begged suddenly. "She did not want to think of Dan."

When they returned to shore, somewhat salt-sprayed and wind-blown, she had succeeded in crowding the unwelcome memory out of her mind.

She had been doing that all week, telling herself that what she felt for Dan was a transitory infatuation—something she mustn't encourage if she wanted to go on growing fonder of Alister, as she seemed to be doing.

They laughed heartily at their leisure and at three they were off for Philadelphia.

Jerry could not down a feeling of guilt. When she promised Mr. Weinert to make good there had been no thought in her mind of doing the least thing to jeopardize her future.

But Alister was in a very good mood. He was pleased with Jerry, pleased that she was to have a real chance with Mr. Weinert, and elated that she had consented to go to Philadelphia with him.

Almost without being willing to admit it, he was building up something that might help him in case he ever seriously considered marrying her. She would make a good impression upon the people she was to meet to-night, he felt, and he wanted an ally at court where his mother reigned.

There had been a change in Jerry. Little crudities that would have made him unwilling to introduce her to certain of his friends

While hanging out some clothing to be dried, a Chinese amah aged 32, fell from the second floor of No. 10, Swatow Lane, Wanchai, yesterday afternoon, and died from her injuries.

Two Chinese contractors were fined $200 by the Kowloon Magistrate yesterday for not carrying out the instructions of the P.W.D. Authority in the construction of a house on Kowloon Island Lot 216. Mr. F. Neville, of the P.W.D., told the Magistrate that the first floor was to be five inches thick and the verandah six inches. The defendants had not carried out the work properly but had just left it to their employees to do as they liked.

had disappeared through association with Evelyn Starr. Jerry was acquiring a manner as well as manners. "I hope you will like Miss Mortimer," he said as they neared the Quaker City. "She's one of the few girls mother doesn't consider among the lost."

Jerry wondered why he told her this. She could not help feeling that the remark was significant. But she had something else more important to think about. What would she wear at dinner and where would she change?

Finally Alister himself settled the matter for her. "We're going to have the Magnolia Rooms at The Krail," he said and waited for the answering remark he was sure Jerry would make.

TARIFF QUESTIONS.

OUTSPOKEN AUSTRALIAN COMMENT.

Geneva, Sept. 11.
In the Assembly, Major Marr (Australia), was most outspoken on the subject of the League and tariffs.
He pointed out that the League did not consist merely of associations of European states. On the contrary, twenty-seven non-European states were members, and their economic problems were very different from European problems. They therefore might be unable to adhere to an international convention of the latter was proposed as a solution of the European tariff problem. The Australian Government hope, however, that this will not lead to an accusation that they are not enthusiastic in the cause of the League.—Reuter.

When the Kowloon-Canton afternoon express was a short distance out of Kowloon Station yesterday, about 3.20, three coaches became derailed, causing a certain amount of alarm to the passengers. The express was delayed for almost an hour.

Immediately after the accident, three other coaches were brought from the station, and the passengers of the derailed coaches were subsequently transferred to these. It is understood that apart from slight shock, none of the passengers was hurt.

Consequent on the derailment, several trains scheduled to arrive at Kowloon yesterday afternoon were delayed, and late last night workmen were still engaged on getting the derailed coaches back in position.

SEATTLE

Short Route...

"IN TRANSIT" time is reduced to an absolute minimum when your cargo moves via the Seattle short route. Not only does the shortness of this route make possible an appreciable saving in transit time and a consequent quicker approach to your markets, but there is a proportionate saving in your insurance and interest costs.

A comparative analysis of these factors will quickly convince you of the economical advantages of routing your cargoes "via Seattle."

GERMAN PLOT.

CONSPIRACY AGAINST THE REPUBLIC.

Berlin, Sept. 11.

A dangerous terrorist conspiracy against the Republic has been unearthed, organized by Nationalist fanatics and members of the notorious "Concul" organization founded by the ex-naval Captain Ehrhardt.

Twenty men who were implicated in the recent bomb outrages all over Germany have been arrested. Their leader, named Nickels, is an ex-police captain of Stuttgart.

The police followed to Hamburg a motor-car, containing Nickels, from the Luneburg district, where the last bomb outrage was committed. They discovered in a house in Hamburg a package containing a bomb, and arrested the tenant. They again followed Nickels' motor-car to Krambe, where they arrested Nickels in his house and seized documents compromising many others.

The arrests in Berlin include Hans Tschow, who served four years' imprisonment for complicity in the murder of the Foreign Minister Rathenau.

Ehrhardt's office in Berlin was raided. The conspiracy was apparently intended as the prelude to an uprising.—Reuter.

RUSSIANS ARRESTED
IN HARBIN.

CHINESE CITIZENS DETAINED AT VLADIVOSTOK.

"RED" PLANES ACTIVE.

Harbin, Sept. 11.
Another huge round-up of Soviet citizens in China has been undertaken, presumably in consequence of the recrudescence of fighting on the frontiers. During the last two days, several hundreds of Soviet citizens have been arrested and interned.
Reports from the frontiers are very conflicting, but official information is to the effect that after capturing Suifenho and Chailin, the Russian troops have evacuated.

No Fighting.

Officials also state that no military operations occurred all day yesterday, although Soviet aeroplanes, in addition to scouting over the railway lines, have appeared on several occasions over Mulin and the Mulin coal-mines.
—Reuter.

Tokyo, Sept. 11.
A message from Harbin this morning states that Soviet aeroplanes flew over Pogranichnaya today and dropped hundreds of leaflets, pledging to refrain from further air attacks.

Russian Reprisals.

From Vladivostok it is learned that a thousand Chinese citizens in Habarovsk and Vladivostok have been arrested by the Soviet authorities and herded into detention camps. It is believed that the arrests are in the nature of reprisals for the internment and alleged ill-treatment of Soviet citizens in China.
—Reuter.

Suifenho Wreckage.

Mukden, Sept. 11.
Two big waiting rooms and the office of the railway staff and the station master were completely wrecked, and one inspector and 18 Chinese workers were dangerously wounded, necessitating their admittance into the Suifenho Hospital, as a result of the violent Russian bombing raid on Sunday evening, according to the official report of Mr. Lu Yun-wan, (the Chinese acting Manager of the Chinese Eastern Railway) to the Mukden Government.
The report adds that 30 Chinese soldiers were also taken to hospital. The railway station and platform were destroyed by bombs dropped from aeroplanes. Regarding the damage reported to the telegraphic and wireless stations at Suifenho, it is understood that a wireless operator was killed and four others were wounded. The Russians also dropped bombs on the railway track, which was wrecked for a distance of 50 feet.

Harbin Problem.

Harbin, Sept. 11.
Large numbers of White Russians are flocking to Harbin following the decision of the management of the Chinese Eastern Railway to dismiss 3,000 White Russian workers. Hundreds of these men have appealed to the Chinese Government at Harbin for work.

During the past few days, White Russians have been involved in a number of assault cases in Harbin, being attacked by Chinese, whose resentment against the Soviets is running high as an outcome of the severe attacks at Suifenho.

An innovation has been introduced by the Government at Harbin, which is supplying all White Russians with badges to differentiate them from the "Reds."

will hear the case for committal, and I can always use the option after hearing the circumstances of the case.

Mr. Lo:—We are asking your Worship to deal with it summarily.
Mr. Hamilton:—It is in defendant's favour to put all before the Court. If I don't deal with it (I shall probably not) the whole matter will come before his Lordship. I gather these charges will stand, Mr. Murphy?

Mr. Murphy:—I shall have to alter misappropriation to alteration of valuable cheques.

On it being suggested that a date for the hearing should be made next week, Mr. Lo stated he would prefer, if possible, an early hearing, in view of the defendant being kept in custody.

The hearing was arranged for two afternoons, on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week.

TRAGIC DEATH OF COMMISSIONER.

SIR GILBERT CLAYTON DIES
AFTER POLO GAME.

SOLDIER & DIPLOMAT.

Bagdad, Sept. 11.
The death has occurred, under tragic circumstances, of Sir Gilbert Clayton, K.C.M.G., the High Commissioner of Iraq.
Sir Gilbert collapsed after playing polo, and shortly afterwards passed away.
—Reuter.

The late Sir Gilbert Falkingham Clayton, soldier and diplomat, who was one of the foremost authorities on Egyptian and Arabian matters, was born in July, 1875, being the son of Lt. Col. W. L. Clayton, and was educated at the Isle of Wight College and Woolwich.

Entering the Army in 1895, he served with the Nile Expedition in 1898. By 1900, he was back in Egypt as an officer in the Egyptian Army and in 1910 he helped to inaugurate the new administration of the Sudan. By that time his knowledge of Arabic and of the Arab and Egyptian races marked him as a man of exceptional value in Middle East affairs.

War Appointment.

On the outbreak of the world-war, he was appointed Director of Intelligence in Egypt and thus became Lord Allenby's right-hand man. His services were of special value during the operations in the Hedjaz region of Arabia where Ibn Saud, chief of the fanatical Wahabi sect, was aiming at the capture of the Holy Places of Islam. In this he succeeded and proclaimed himself King of the Hedjaz. For his war services Mr. Clayton (as he then was) was mentioned in dispatches and knighted. From 1919 to 1922 he was adviser to the Egyptian Ministry of the Interior, and then for three years Chief Secretary to the Government of Palestine.

In 1925 he was entrusted with the conduct of the negotiations with Ibn Saud on questions affecting his relations with Iraq and Trans-Jordan. He concluded two agreements, one aiming at the prevention of Wahabi raids into Iraq and the other delimiting the frontier of Trans-Jordan and Nejd. These pacts proved not to be quite effective and, owing to the recurrence of the raids, Sir Gilbert Clayton was deputed to meet Ibn Saud again in the summer of 1928 to try to induce him to exercise proper control over his wayward followers. The negotiations were long, but unsuccessful.

Appointed Commissioner.

In January, 1929, Sir Gilbert Clayton was appointed High Commissioner in Iraq. On the eve of his departure from England came the news that a political crisis had arisen owing to an agitation to free Iraq from the British Mandate and to obtain its admission to the League of Nations. His appointment was generally welcomed by the people, however, owing to the influence he was expected to exert over Ibn Saud. On the way out, he passed through Turkey and had the experience of being snowed up in a train for about ten days.

He was an Egyptian Pasha and among the many decorations he received were the Legion of Honour, the Osmanieh, the Order of King George I of Greece and the Order of the Nishan. He was made K.C.M.G. in 1925.

DANGER TO PUBLIC.

BUILDING DEBRIS FALLS INTO STREET.

A charge of allowing building debris to fall into the street was brought against a contractor demolishing a house at No. 367, Shanghai Street, before Mr. T. S. Whyte Smith at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning.

The defendant intimated that the debris consisted of only dust and earth.

The prosecution mentioned that the defendant had provided something to prevent the debris from falling into the street, but the erection was inadequate. A proper hearing should have been put up. It was also mentioned that the debris was not dust, but large pieces of brick.

His Worship pointed out to the defendant that it was no less objectionable even if it was only dust and earth.

A fine of $25 was imposed. A resident of No. 67, Cooke Street, was fined $5 for throwing water into the street, it being stated that a Chinese constable received the full force of the deluge.

The defendant admitted the charge but said that he had been watering the flowers, and the water was clean.

A similar fine was imposed on a Chinese woman residing at No. 22, Woosung Street, who was charged with throwing household rubbish into the street.

ENGLISH LEAGUE FOOTBALL.

PORTSMOUTH AGAIN
HELD AT HOME.

SOUTHEAST AND DARLINGTON
IN GOOD COMPANY.

PLYMOUTH GOES NAP.

London, Sept. 11.
In thirteen English League matches played to-day, only Darlington and Southend succeeded in obtaining full points on foreign soil, these clubs joining Port Vale and Oldham among the list of teams which have gained full possible points.

Everton participated in their third draw, while Grimsby snatched a point from Pompey and held their place among the leaders of the First Division.

In the Second Division, Bristol City and Chelsea won at home to Swansea and Barnsley respectively, while also in the south of England, Plymouth and Bournemouth each netted five goals against their opponents.

Southend's Success.

Southend's smart win over Crystal Palace places them at the head of the Southern Section.

In the Northern Section, Darlington's record of seventeen goals in three matches was not maintained proportionately, but they managed to win away from home, and their fourth successive engagement.

York City, newcomers to the League, have yet to experience defeat. They drew at Wrexham to-day.

The results, as tabulated by Reuter, were:—

Y.M.C.A. WINTER ACTIVITIES.

MOCK ELECTION TO BE ARRANGED.

With the approach of cooler weather, the Kowloon European Y.M.C.A. is making preparations for one of the most successful winter seasons in its history. Everyone is particularly anxious to make this season better than its predecessors, as the popular Secretary, Mr. John H. Hunt, leaves for home next May, and it is hoped that the memory of his last season in Hongkong will be a most pleasant one.

At an enthusiastic meeting in the Games Room last night two important committees, from the point of view of winter social amenities, were elected. They are the Library and Literary and Debating Committee, and are composed of the following gentlemen: Library, Messrs. A. White, T. J. Price, F. H. Loseby, H. H. Farnham, and J. W. Horsford; Literary and Debating, Messrs. T. J. Price, E. R. Price, A. R. Brown, W. Skinner, P. J. Clancy, C. Carruthers and A. A. Dand.

Mr. Hunt, who presided at the meeting, pointed out that the Literary and Debating Committee were most fortunate in securing the services of Mr. C. Carruthers, who only recently arrived from home. Mr. Carruthers has held office in the Plymouth Debating Society and is a fluent and polished speaker.

Hongkong in general will be pleased to know that one of the objects of the new Literary and Debating Committee is to organise a mock election, on the same lines as the famous "Mudford" election of two years ago. Mr. Hunt is hoping that the coming election will be even more successful than the last. The Rev. J. Horace Johnston will be requested to accept the Presidency of the Committee.
